We invite you to join the Goldfield Historical Society. We are a non-profit organization dedicated to preservation of the history of Goldfield, Nevada, and site of the last great western gold rush. This is accomplished through publications and other material distributed to the membership, as well as historic projects that benefit the community and people of the area as a whole. However we cannot do it without your support! Join now to help us meet our goals and to assure that future generations will always remember Goldfield's glorious past.
